

VTS Won Responsible Care Award Y2006

In January 2007, Vopak Terminals Singapore was delighted to be informed by the Singapore Chemical Industry Council (SCIC) that both Vopak Penjuru and Sakra Terminal have won the Year 2006 Responsible Care award. The awards won by both terminals individually are: Community Awareness and Emergency Response Code and, the Process Safety Code.

For a company to win an award, a panel of selected judges will audit the company for the relevant Codes of Management Practices. This includes interviews with Responsible Care committee members and site personnel.

It is the second time VTS has won such awards and it represents a new milestone for VTS. This achievement would not have been possible without Management support and our employees' effort to support the RC Codes of Management Practices.

On 22nd March 2007, the Y2006 Responsible Care award presentation was held over the SCIC annual dinner at The Marriot Hotel. Representatives from Government Authorities, our customers, service providers and industry players attended the award ceremony. Our employees, Lim Khick Kiong and Soh Ming Ming, representing Vopak Penjuru and Sakra Terminal respectively went on stage to receive the award from SCIC Vice Chairman, Mr Lawrence Cheung.

Congratulations for a job well done! Keep up the effort and we hope to see you on stage again next year and for many years to come.
